FOREWORD

Heritage is a wonderful asset and Petersburg High School can surely claim its share. Out of a bequest made in 1822 by Mr. David Anderson for public education in Petersburg, has grown this fine institution which is now responsible for the education of approximately one thousand students each year. From six teachers and two courses — “English and Mathematics” and “Classical” — have grown about five courses offering more than ninety-five subjects under fifty-five teachers.

The curriculum of the school has retained its definite emphasis on scholarship but has also added special attention to the Cooperative Training, Industrial Arts, and General courses. For the college-bound student, two courses have been added this year. In the mathematics department, Algebra 5, an introduction to college math, is now offered to those students who have completed all of the previously offered math; and in the English department, Speech 3, an advanced reading course, is offered to those who have completed the required English. Language laboratories for French and Spanish students also aided in making the year a notable one.

Along with scholastic achievements, various extra-curricular activities add to the excitement and work of the year. Everyone is encouraged to join clubs and activities, and the Student Council sponsors a point system to recognize those students who do outstanding jobs in their activities. Thus this yearbook is dedicated to relating to the reader the entire story of this 1962-63 school year.

A THEME FULL OF MEANING

*"Ye rigid Ploughmen! Bear in mind
Your labour is for future hours.
Advance! Spare not! Nor look behind!
Plough deep and straight with all your powers!"*

— RICHARD HENRY HORNE

The Plough

This impressive verse has been selected to exemplify the theme of the 1963 Missile. Its forceful meaning is fully projected to each student as he sees himself compared to the rigid Ploughman. The student of today must work hard throughout his school years in order to insure a profitable future. Whether his plans include a job or college, both greatly depend on just how hard he works and how well he applies himself during his high school years. Another important factor is the zeal with which he carries out his duties. His enthusiasm inspires him onward and influences others to follow.

As one ventures through his last four years of public school education, he needs to begin to complete his development into a mature adult. According to the verse, he must always do his best in whatever job he undertakes. He also should put his whole self into each activity and maintain high moral standards, as expressed in the last line,

"Plough deep and straight with all your powers!"

Character development is just as important as academic progress, and it should rate in each student's mind with equal importance. The courses, activities, and athletics offered at Petersburg High are of the highest caliber and blend well together to give the proper background for the development of each student. However, the school cannot do this alone, and it is up to each individual to use these facilities to the best of his ability, as emphasized in the verse.

ADVICE FOR ALL TIMES, ALL PEOPLE

Studying is one of the outstanding factors which aids in the proper development of each student.
It should be the most important part of our preparation for the future.

A FRIEND AND TEACHER -- LONG TO BE

DEDICATION

Proper guidance is one of the most important factors in the development of a well-adjusted student, and to one who has been a reliable guide to all, we dedicate this 1963 MIS-SILE. Mr. James W. Sutherland, beloved and respected senior English teacher, has made each one of his students keenly aware of his personal interest and has carefully guided each one in the proper direction toward a better life.

Mr. Sutherland's avid interest in his students is clearly evident as shown by his desire to keep his students well informed, not only in the field of English but also in current events. His extensive knowledge of current literary works keeps us up to date, while he also gladly devotes classroom time to reviewing for those all-important college boards. He possesses the unusual talent of being able to transfer a large part of his vast knowledge to his students without much pain. This talent causes each one to enjoy fully this class and to be anxious to learn more. To them, he represents an image whose endless search for knowledge inspires each one to model himself accordingly.

Mr. Sutherland's interest in his students is also clearly demonstrated in his activities outside of the classroom. Without him, one would rarely see the informative page of the Weekly News in each Sunday issue of the local newspaper. He devotedly works with his students to put out this weekly column which informs our city of the activities here at school. His journalistic interests are conveyed to those who are chosen to be in the Quill and Scroll Honorary Society for High School Journalists. Mr. Sutherland works closely with this group as its advisor and shows particular guidance when the club issues a collection of works done by the students of our school. With his authoritative advice on the selection of the works to be used, the group is assured of the success of the publication.

As preparation for the standing which he now holds, Mr. Sutherland graduated from Randolph-Macon with a Bachelor of Arts and did graduate work at Harvard and the University of Virginia. He has also received the degree of Masters in Education recently. Before coming to Petersburg High, he taught at Norfolk Academy, Dinwiddie, Carson, Prince George, and Hopewell.

Another commendable asset of this distinguished educator is his many years of devotion to the public school system. Because his main concern lies with the student as an individual, he has become one of the most well-loved teachers at school. This man possesses the rare ability to give his students the desire to learn and, as a result, to better themselves. Because of all these distinctive features, Mr. Sutherland is truly one of Petersburg High School's most valuable faculty members and a true guide to his students.

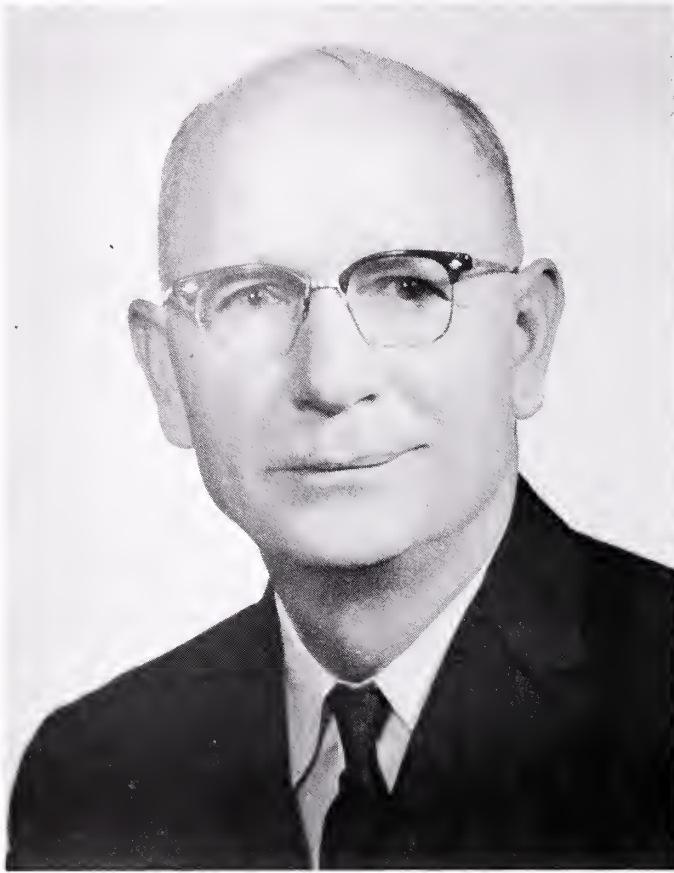

So it is with deep affection and infinite appreciation that the staff of the 1963 Missile dedicates this annual to Mr. James W. Sutherland, a faithful and respected guide whose true devotion causes his great popularity.

REMEMBERED IN OUR HEARTS AND MINDS

MR. JAMES W. SUTHERLAND
Senior English Teacher

OUR ADMINISTRATION

RUSSELL B. GILL, PRINCIPAL

COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY,
UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA
B. A., M. A.

Mr. Russell B. Gill, our principal, has been at Petersburg High School since 1943. During this time he has been interested not only in the academic aspect of the school, but also in student activities, guidance, and a well-rounded athletic program.

The students are very indebted to Mr. Gill for the encouragement and help he has given. His patience marks him as a gentleman and his wisdom marks him as a scholar. As principal of Petersburg High School he is an inspiration to its students.

He has shown his interest in the education of young people through his participation in many organizations concerned with education. He is past president of the Department of Secondary School Principals of Virginia, past chairman of the Group One Board of the Virginia High School League and a member of the Virginia Committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

EDWIN M. BETTS,
ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA
B. S.

Mr. Edwin M. Betts has been assistant principal of Petersburg High School since 1960. Before that time, he taught English, speech, and dramatics at Petersburg High for seven years. He has also been in charge of all dramatic productions, each of which has been a credit to the school.

As our assistant principal, he has shown patience and friendliness toward all students.

He has also shown his interest in students and their education through his numerous activities. In the past, he has been Chairman of State SCA Advisory Committee, and a member of the Board of Managers of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers. In 1961 he was elected president of District D of Virginia Education Association, an office which made him a member of the VEA Board.

SCENE OF RELAXATION: FACULTY PICNIC

FACULTY

The faculty greatly enjoys its annual picnic which is held at the home of Mr. B. F. Alexander. This event climaxes a full year of devoted teaching and wise counseling. It is a time of appreciated relaxation and casual fun for our well-deserving faculty.

TEACHERS ENJOY TIME OUT OF CLASS

Each teacher at PHS will be long remembered for some unusual characteristic.

Who will ever forget Col. Lloyd's etiquette lessons, jokes, and ties . . . Coach Payne's, "We all live in the United . . . What?"

In English, we listen to "The Bells" from Miss Evans and, "But surely you've read the Neibelungenlied," from Mr. Sutherland.

In science Mr. Leete's grin will always be remembered, and Mr. Alexander's jokes add interest to the math department.

Each of these teachers help make life at PHS interesting.

The familiar faces of these two teachers, Miss Gwaltney and Miss Morgan, are always on hand in the mornings to greet students arriving on the second floor.

In a classic pose, Miss Evans and Mr. Alexander seem always to use the doorway of 315 for their daily conferences.

Two new members of the faculty, Mr. Quist and Mr. Morris, somehow find time to relax during class change.

LANGUAGE TEACHERS IN THE LIMELIGHT

Miss Doan explains "various and sundry" constructions to Latin scholars Jimmy Douthat, Susan Wyche, and Rose Ellen Stewart.

The Language Department of PHS gives students knowledge, not only of the language, but of the people and native country. With the addition of the new language lab, students can be assured of an even better course in French and Spanish.

In the new language lab, Spanish pupils listen attentively to la Señorita Profesora, Miss Gladys Wilkinson.

French students listen avec beaucoup d'enthousiasme as Miss Taylor tells them about life in France.

FACULTY GIVES EXTRA HELPFUL AID

Miss Wood, algebra teacher, takes time out to explain problems to Carol Mills.

Perhaps the most important part of life at Petersburg High is the outstanding faculty. Throughout the years, their help and guidance will serve as an inspiration to all. Whether in the classroom

The steady click-click of the typewriter stops momentarily as Mrs. Brooks offers to help Karen Beardsley.

History teacher Mr. Churn offers to explain again the Marines' part in World War II to Cheri Boone and Mike Harrison.

or sponsoring various clubs and activities, each teacher is more than willing to give his time and help in any way he is able.

"Where is my crystal ball?" says Mr. Sublett, chemistry teacher, as David Winfield lends assistance in the search.

CLASS OF 1963 SETS HIGH GOALS

As a symbol of our reward, graduation is the high point of our high school career. It represents our long years of diligent study and serves as our goal.

SENIORS

"Ye rigid Ploughmen! Bear in mind your labour is for future hours"

Each senior should heed the wise advice in these impressive lines. To him they should mean to study hard, to be active in school curriculum, and to retain every detail as preparation for his future life. No matter what career he chooses, Petersburg High School is quite able to provide him with proper guidance and information. Also, the school offers an excellent academic system and the most varied activities program.

The academic curriculum of Petersburg High has been greatly augmented recently by the addition of Speech 3, Algebra 5, and the language laboratories. The first two additions are available to the advanced math and English students. The language lab was installed to aid in the three-year language programs of Spanish and French.

However, the seniors must remember that it is up to only them as to how they are benefited by the school. The best facilities are available, but it is up to the student to take advantage of them.

THOUGHTS IN METER AND RHYME

I CAN LIVE IN THE NIGHT

I like the night . . .
The peace and stillness.
I like it when I can hear
The leaves falling, the birds chirping
Quietly in their nests.

I only wish it were all like this;
But as the dawn breaks there,
The birds fly away, and the people come
To say that I was foolish to stay
In the woods, in the cold of the night.

But they don't see,
They don't understand
That it isn't cold and dark
To me; it's warm and full of light
When I can be myself.

I don't have to put on a false face for all;
I don't have to pretend to like what I can't stand;
I can sing, I can laugh;
I can live in the night.

— SYLVIA SHIPE

THE CHOICE

Miles have I come. Yet when weighed with those to the expected journey's end, they are but few.
There! The crossroads lie ahead, where I will make my own decisions — but am I ready?
Is the careful planning of those whom I know the best
on the road in vain?
Only endless time will tell the truth.
The great decision is here; accept or reject the Word.
As Science and History battle on the fields of time,
I must decide now. Believe that which is contrary to logic, and yet is written in the indelible ink of the countless ages —
That is the greatest choice that a man must make.
Make it. Then pray you were right at Journey's end.

— ROBERT FORMAINI

THINK ON THESE THINGS

My heart constricts each time I think
Of problems worldly-wise.
The danger seems so imminent
That something in me cries —
Spend well . . . Spend well the time today
Each moment guard with care
Each passing word that's said, Make kind
Each tender moment share.

Hold dear . . . hold dear the time today
Tomorrow dawns anew.
Hold dear those whispered words of love
In hopes that they are true.
Remember these, the lovely things,
A star-kissed sky and breeze
For these may come a day when
You'll have only memories.

— JUDI STEVENS

MEMORIES

In nineteen fifty-nine we came,
Small freshmen searching for our fame.
Petersburg High was oh, so strange,
For us it was a great big change.
As sophomores there was less fright,
And joining clubs was our delight.
The Homecoming Dance was then our job;
Who can forget the great big mob.
As juniors we were quite the ones,
Learning that grades cannot be won.
And don't forget that thrilling fling,
When we received our class ring.
Our senior year did come at last,
And boy was that a great big blast!
But with our joys did come the tears,
Looking back on happy years.

— NELLIE PAT CLEMENTS

ODE

In a field of ruffled flowers and trampled grass,
There stands an object, tall and straight,
Voted by all because it alone refuses —
Refuses to yield to nothingness and bend to emptiness.
It alone stands to be noticed — not
Because it isn't as pretty as the flowers may be, or green and fresh as the spring grass —
Because in the field of life it alone
Stands to oppose the decaying forces.
Winds to break the stem, rain to Beat it into the dirt, mud, and grime of the earth,
Cold to freeze the desire for life out of existence;
Yet, this object, character, stands
To oppose and conquer all.

— MICHAEL DIAMOND

SOMEWHERE

There is a place I know about
Where no one else will go.
It isn't very crowded there
That's why I love it so!
It has no musty odor there
Like the homes crowded back in town.
It is down by a little stream
That winds all around and around!
The clean fresh smell of dogwood trees
And the flowers that bloom in spring;
They make me thank the Lord
And dance around with joy and wing!
The mild aroma of autumn
Always makes me think alot:
About the cold, cold lonely days
That lie around the block!
I always go to this "somewhere"
All the time when I go to bed.
For this little place is all made up
Right in my sleepy head!

IN THE BUSY HOURS - TIME OUT FOR FUN

The Missile editor directs David Griffin and Oscar Edwards in signing the autograph page of the seniors.

As most people will agree, the senior year at P. H. S. is always the most enjoyable. It is filled with many activities which will long be remembered in years to come. Preparation for graduation includes more than hard study, for every senior class seems to take time out for fun. In the spring, the senior trip to some interesting place is looked forward to, as is the senior banquet. Before graduation, seniors make plans for their "Slop Day" and fun-filled senior picnic. After exams, the long-expected Senior Prom comes. At graduation, all of this is over, but a new senior class will already be waiting for their big senior year.

Betty Bishop and Joe Cowling are enjoying the Senior Prom as do most seniors.

ENGLISH TEACHERS GUIDE SENIORS

Mr. Sutherland helps Danny Wells with his English term paper.

Tennyson Bossa Nova? Ivan Ginsberg and Doug Waters set the "Lady of Shalot" to music.

Mr. Sutherland explains the finer art of writing poetry to a bewildered class.

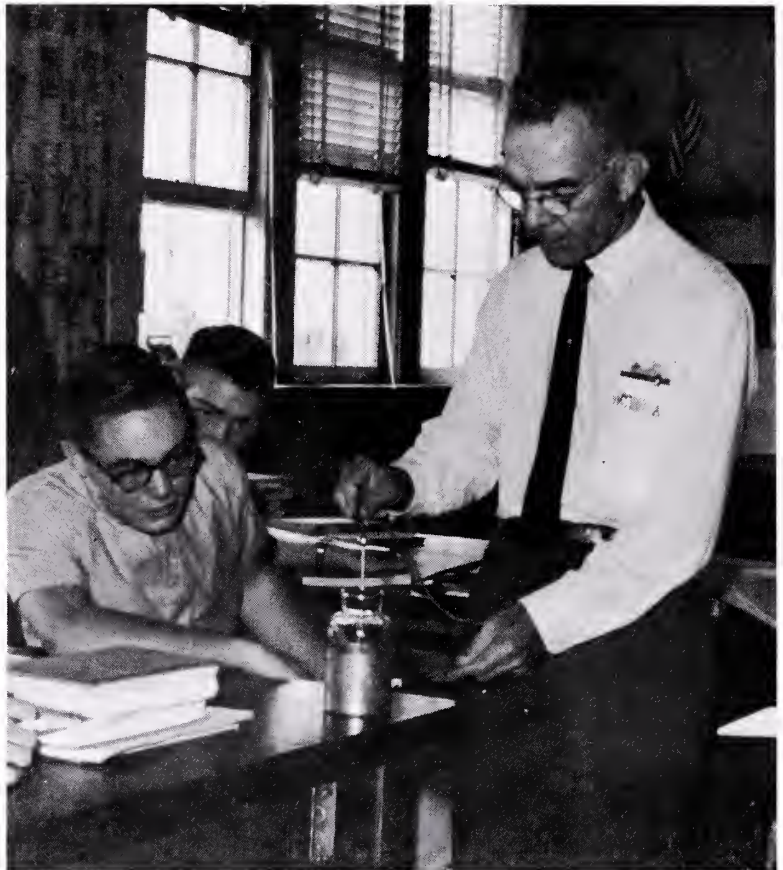

Discussing an interesting point in literature, Charles Thompson and Sonny Floyd find Mrs. Stronach very helpful.

SENIORS SHOW INTEREST IN CLASSES

In the Home Economics House, Brenda Gray prepares the table for a meal.

Bill Aden and Gary Bokinsky seem fascinated by the actions of their physics teacher, Mr. Leete.

Coach Payne illustrates "the cream of the crop" with David Griffin.

Joyce Talmage and Carol Mills work on projects in their sewing class.

HONORS, ACHIEVEMENTS HIGHLIGHT '63

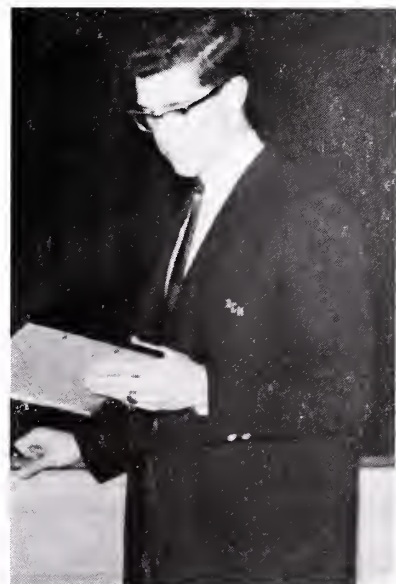

Delegates to Girls' State and Boys' State recall fond memories of their work and fun there. The delegates are Mike Harrison, Preston Grammer, Sue Ella Cole, Doug Waters, Buck Maddra, Amiele Barakey, Danny Wells, Nellie Pat Clements, and Betty Bishop.

A member of the 1937 Crimson Wave football team presents Terri Gardner with a bouquet of roses after having crowned her as queen of the Homecoming festivities.

Runners-up Jim Rosenstock and Sue Barker congratulate Bill Prizer, winner of the Most Outstanding Boy Award. Sponsored by the Optimist International, the award to a boy and girl is made during Youth Appreciation Week.

Doug Waters considers what this National Merit Award will mean to him. Doug placed as the first finalist in the history of our school in this contest.

STRANGE SIGHTS SEEN WITH SENIORS

Seniors in the February class live it up on Senior Slop Day.

Bill Prizer strums a tune on a baseball bat while Susan Wilbourne sings.

D'Arcy Roper, Jim Rosenstock, Wert Smith, and Buck Maddra seem to enjoy doing their homework.

PSAT ARE IMPORTANT TO JUNIORS

These juniors are deeply concentrating on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests given in the cafeteria at Bolling Junior High School last fall. These tests pave the way to the more difficult college boards.

JUNIORS

"Advance! Spare not!"

Among the most important preparations made for future life by the juniors is their introduction to college boards by means of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests. These tests give the juniors an idea of what to expect when they take the official college boards, which play an all-important part in their admittance into college. The juniors should advance and spare not any opportunity to reach this goal.

The highlight of this year for the juniors is the receiving of their rings at their ring dance. This long-awaited moment is the climax of the year and the point at which all of their hard work is rewarded.

Each junior must keep in mind that he must work hard and long in order to prepare himself properly for his senior year and his future after graduation. He has this goal which he must always keep in mind and toward which he must steadily advance.

THE QUEEN AND HER SUBJECTS DANCE

Before the Ring Dance, the committee faces the very difficult task of decorating the gym.

Many juniors enjoy their just reward after working hard to present this dance.

SERIOUS AND FRIVOLOUS MOMENTS

Mr. Zaruba instructs the Junior Ring Dance committee as to how they must obtain 10,000 napkins before the dance.

The Review serves as "the pause that refreshes" for Bud Syme and Ray Ann McEwen.

On Friday after fifth period, juniors Charlé Dick and Mary Paul Roper gleefully anticipate the week-end.

A TIME FOR DECISIVE THINKING

Sophomores and juniors listen attentively to Mr. Gill as he explains the new courses to be offered next year to this group.

Miss Bailey encourages each member of the junior class to apply to the college of his choice as soon as possible and to take those college boards!

Under the direction of Miss Reynolds, these juniors are diligently working on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test in hopes of earning a scholarship.

HARD WORK REWARDED AT SOPH DANCE

The Homecoming Dance is one of the highlights of the year. This sophomore-sponsored project was a great success and thus proved the leadership and creativeness of this class.

SOPHOMORES

"Nor look behind!"

The main project of the sophomore class is the management of Homecoming. Each year the sophomores arrange the booths, prepare for the crowning of the queen, and plan the dance. The great success of this project proves the leadership and artistic ability of the class. With qualities such as these, their class must work together throughout their next two years, advancing forward and never looking behind.

As sophomores, these students are beginning to carry the heavy burdens of advanced subjects, stricter grading, and deeper study. At this point, they form their social and scholastic habits, and Petersburg High School offers the best possible background for their proper development.

To each sophomore much advice is given, and it should be faithfully followed; however, the theme poem offers the best advice in a compact form. Especially to this group, it is advised always to advance and never to look behind.

"Forsan et hac olim meminisse juvabit." After hours of hard work, Latin students Cathy Clarke, Verna Poarch, Jimmy Jacobs, and Jerry Lou Pulley proudly display their Latin projects, miniatures of Roman life.

Shrub Day was a busy occasion for these three sophomores. They are Jackie Richards, Carol Payne, and Jo King. They worked all day with about fifty other students towards the beautification of the school grounds.

FROM HOMECOMING TO SCHOOL BUSINESS

Sophomore Mac Graham gently helps an unidentified friend out of the Review room.

Miss Reynolds administers intelligence tests to bewildered sophomores.

Betty Wyatt, Feeta Andrews, Cathryn Gray, and Karen Anderson applaud approvingly after a candidate for SCA president gave his campaign speech.

COUNSELING GUIDES NEW STUDENTS

Freshman counselor, Miss Katherine Warner, guides and advises Tommy Watkins and Louise York in choosing their course of study for their high school work.

"Plough deep and straight with all your powers."

The ability to follow good advice is the keynote to success. Among the most valuable aids given to the freshmen is the advice of their guidance counselor about their choice of course and subjects. This guidance generally influences each freshman permanently as to his selection of a vocation. Also, each student is deeply impressed with the importance of ardent study and high moral standards.

The freshman may be compared to the ploughman as he starts his first row. He must plough deep and straight as a guide for the remaining rows, and he is reminded that his hard work will be rewarded later. The freshman must work hard during this first year as a symbol of his future years, and he will be rewarded with graduation.

Petersburg High School offers its best in proper guidance, but it is up to each freshman to heed this advice and to begin his path through his high school years with deep study and high standards.

THAT FIRST YEAR HOLDS MANY THINGS

Freshmen Jimmy Browder, Dade Lunsford, John Graves, Hart Roper, and Jasper Young relax during a vigorous physical education period.

As typical examples of initiation day, Elizabeth Harrison and Elizabeth Livingston portray the sheep of Little Bo Peep.

A group of Freshman listened intently to the guided tour of the building.

Bootie Pilcher and Bob Livingston seem greatly absorbed in their biology assignment.

INTERCLUB COUNCIL UNITES ACTIVITIES

Skip Roberts, vice-president of the Student Council, conducts an Interclub Council meeting. Listening intently to the helpful advice and guidance by this organization are the leaders of the various activities of our school.

ACTIVITIES

One factor that plays a tremendous part in the proper development of the student is his extra-curricular activities. Petersburg High School offers its best in this field, and each student is urged to join and participate in his choice of club. These extra-curricular activities aid in the development of the student by providing training in leadership, creativeness, and organization.

A wide variety of activities is offered through the service clubs, social clubs, publications, and honorary societies. The point system, sponsored by the Student Co-operative Association, limits excess participation in the various clubs and distributes the coveted school monogram to those who earn a certain number of points for the degree of their participation. The Interclub Council, also sponsored by the Student Council, provides a method of closer club relations and promotes cooperation between the various organizations.

Each school organization or activity is sponsored by a faculty member who gives unselfishly of his time to contribute his part to the important development of the students.

MISSILE HEADS

The Missile is the annual school publication which serves as a guide to student activities. Anyone who is diligent and desires to do so may become a member of the Missile staff. No matter where the future may lead the students of Petersburg High School, the Missile will serve as a remembrance of their high school days.

Each year the Missile is usually submitted to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for evaluation.

CIRCULATION & WHO'S WHO

MISSILE STAFF IN ACTION

Head photographer Tom Osmundson sets out to track down unsuspecting victims for his ever-flashing camera.

Assistant Marvin Rose and Sports Editor Michael Diamond comb the files for material.

The Missile heads line up for their picture.

Editor-in-chief Betty Bishop discusses the latest "crisis" with advisor Miss Evans.

"Look out!", "Hide!", "If they print that I'll die!" These are just a few reactions of people caught by the Missile cameramen. Nevertheless, they are very much amused when they spot themselves in a candid shot.

With the aid of Miss Evans, the faithful advisor, the Missile staff works long and hard to give the student body a yearbook it will treasure in years to come. Adding new, unusual features, they strive each year to give a picture of high school life that will bring back memories in the future.

PUBLICATIONS GATHER NEW IDEAS

Mary Anne Ritchings and Sue Barker discuss ideas from other yearbooks while Bob Kutsher and Doug Waters plan picture layouts.

In the same fashion, Review workers Louis Capilongo, Betsy Bernard, and Bob Powell discover new ideas from newspapers received from other schools.

REVIEW

The purpose of the school newspaper, the Review, is to inform and entertain the student body, and to provide training for future journalists. The staff is made up of students interested in writing, business, editing, and typing, who become fanatics as a result of various crises, deadlines, and a fierce pride. The rewards for this are the honors won by the Review, both at SIPA and at the Richmond Journalism clinic. The hard work which goes into each of the twelve issues of the year produces efficiency, diligence, and loyalty, qualities which will prove useful, whether the staff members enter college or a career.

PETERSBURG HIGH PRESS IN ACTION

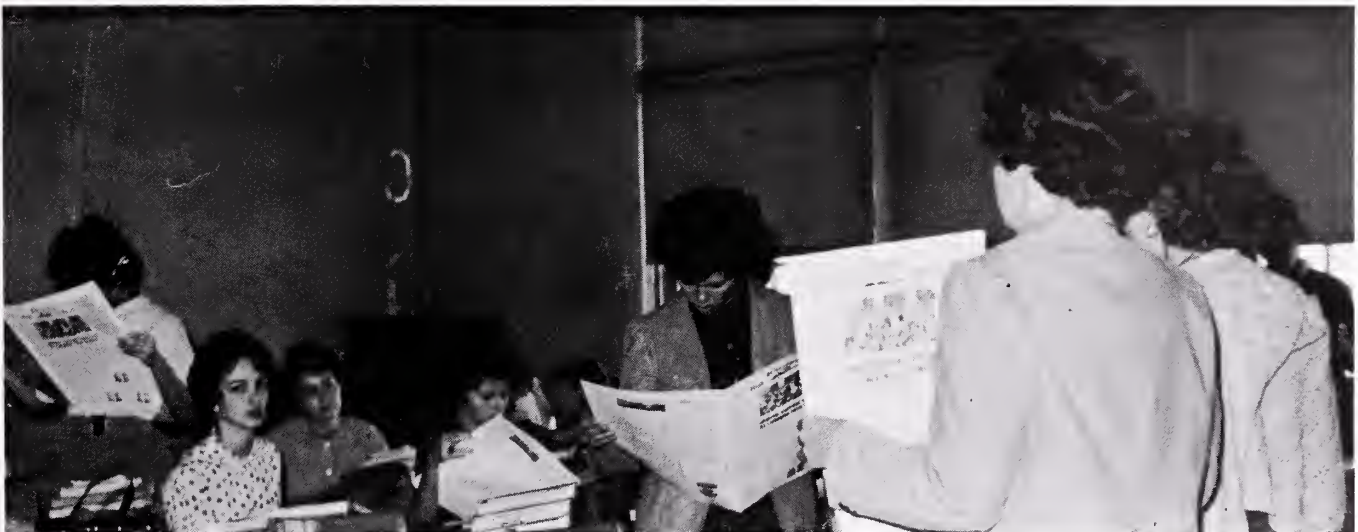

Managing editor Tommy McCaleb explains the finer points of journalism to page editors Freddy Feil and Diane Linker.

Editor-in-chief Sharyn Domagalski and faculty advisor Mrs. Halloway find a new picture very amusing.

With a thousand small crises daily and deadlines to meet, the Petersburg High "Reviewers" have no trouble following their motto—"Keep Tense." Nevertheless, "through rain, snow, sleet, and shower," they manage to keep the student body well informed concerning school events.

The Finished product — Members of homeroom 316 are very much interested in recent school happenings.

Quill and Scroll

The Quill and Seroll National Honor Society recognizes superior accomplishments in the various phases of journalism. Juniors and seniors who are in the upper third of their class, recommended by the faculty advisor of a student publication, and approved by the secretary-treasurer of the society, are eligible for membership.

The Petersburg chapter is named for Mr. David Pinckney Powers, who retired in 1961, after teaching English at PHS for many years.

STUDENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

Democracy in action — that is our Student Co-Operative Association. Every student is, in a sense, a member of the S. C. A., for in homeroom meetings, students may voice opinions and suggestions concerning school affairs. In turn, these ideas are taken to the bi-weekly meeting of the S. C. A. by a representative or alternate elected by the students in each homeroom.

The S. C. A. is the core of student activities. Among its numerous projects this year were Honor Week and the promotion of Honor Study Halls.

KEY CLUB

To prepare for useful citizenship and to develop initiative and leadership are two of the objectives of the Key Club. The members, selected for their high moral character and service to the school and community, are leaders and, by following the objectives of the club, will become community leaders in the future.

Another objective of the Key Club is to serve the school and community. In this, the P. H. S. Key Club has been very active, having won the first Most Outstanding Club Award last year.

This year's projects include providing the wood for pep rally bon-fires, printing and distributing 1500 wallet-size athletic schedules, and maintaining a dairy booth at South-side Virginia Fair.

Membership to the Key Club is by invitation to boys of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who have good grades and have demonstrated qualities of leadership, character, and sportsmanship. Prospective members are voted on by the club and then approved by Mr. Gill and a faculty committee.

VARSITY CLUB

They are all future All-Americans, of course, but right now the men in the Varsity Club are the school heroes. These are the athletes who, as representatives of the school, spread its glory. They hold a great responsibility, for it is pride in the teams that unites the many individuals of this school.

Membership in the Varsity Club is limited to winners of varsity letters which are proof of both skill and strength. The members, distinguished by crimson jackets with Varsity Club emblems, promote good sportsmanship throughout the student body.

Between games and practice, the club finds time to distribute the school Christmas baskets and to earn money for their annual banquet by operating the car-wash at Cotten Whelan's Service Station in the spring. They also form an emergency committee for evacuation in case of nuclear threat.

J. V. Cheerleaders

"We've got the vim, we've got the pep"—the words of this cheer truly describe the J.V. Cheerleaders, who supply the spirit which carries their team to success. Constant practice, assistance at varsity games and pep-rallies, and service at school functions are also duties of these busy misses who dream of being Varsity Cheerleaders.

The squad is chosen from the freshman and sophomore hopefuls who best demonstrate their poise, originality, and cheering ability during the try-outs in early fall.

Monogram Club

Letter-winners in the girls' sports—basketball, hockey, and softball—are eligible for membership in the energetic Monogram Club. Although its primary project is to encourage participation in girls' sports and attendance at the games, the club performs many useful services. The members are responsible for cleaning the trophy case and for handling the Christmas baskets. The club also sells drinks and programs at the home basketball games.

At the end of the year, trophies are awarded by the Monogram Club to both the most outstanding club member and girl athlete.

GOLD BLAZERS

Those busy girls in the Gold Blazers are members of the pep club. Each year the services done for the school by them increase, for they are always working on a current project. The purpose of this club is to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship, but the members do much more than that.

All during the year they paint and display the signs decorating the halls and cafeteria, usher for school functions, and add their noisy voices to the P. H. S. cheering section. In football seasons the Gold Blazers decorate the goal posts and at the end of the year the members hold a banquet to give awards and honor seniors.

Membership is made up of cheerleaders, finalists in cheer-leading tryouts, a representative from each freshman homeroom, and certain elected upperclassmen. Together in gold blazers the members are quite impressive singing the club song, "Stand Up and Cheer."

THEIR JOB -- KEEPING BOOKS ORDERLY

Library Staff

Efficiency, a quality which is a valuable asset for anyone to possess, could well be the motto of this responsible group of students who give assistance to the librarian in various ways. Before, during, and after school they check books in and out and keep the bookshelves in proper order. At the end of each term, they also participate in the time-consuming job of taking inventory.

Membership is open to anyone who desires to serve the library and the school in a valuable way.

Officers have not been elected as yet.

Putting knowledge to work, Michael Edwards gains valuable experience with on-the-job training.

MAJORETTES IN HIGH STEPPING PACES

Majorettes

These seven girls not only add color to the marching band when performing their varied routines at football games and in parades, but also promote school spirit when participating in pep rallies with the pep band.

Seven regular majorettes and three alternates are chosen in highly competitive try-outs each year on the basis of their personalities and ability.

Band director, Mr. Stronach is caught in a rare idle moment.

"1-2-3-play!"—and the PHS band, under the very capable direction of Mr. Ralph Stronach, begins another song. At football games, concerts, parades, or pep rallies, the band plays a major role in representing the school. Many hours of practice and hard work have resulted in a band of whose efforts the school is certainly proud.

Working hard in practice, the band members prepare for their next performance.

Girls' Glee Club

The Glee Club, composed entirely of girls, aids in developing an appreciation and a better understanding of the many types of music among the students by presenting Christmas and Spring concerts each year.

This organization continues to be a source of pride and an important part of school life at PHS.

Girls' Ensemble

The Girls' Ensemble is a group of talented girls chosen from the entire Glee Club. Its special activity is performing for various civic clubs throughout the city, besides participating in certain numbers in the school concerts.

PROJECTS OF GIRLS' SOCIAL CLUB

SOCIAL CLUBS

The members of the three social clubs for girls enjoy the friendship and service promoted by these groups. Membership is obtained by individual invitation.

The Odd Girls participate in special projects such as visiting the City Home at Christmas where they distribute presents, songs, and cheer. In recent years the club has donated paintings of local scenes to the school. The club raised the money by having a Homecoming booth and selling pencils.

The Square Circle sponsors several entertaining activities during the school year. One of these is the annual "Twirp Week," during which the girl takes the initiative. These girls are also models in the spring fashion show put on by the club. Square Circle finances its various projects by selling candy at home basketball games.

Throughout the school year members of Goober Pep participate in money-making projects including Homecoming in order to support the annual presentation of the Mary T. Perkins Latin trophy. This is awarded to a third- or fourth-year Latin student as selected by a committee consisting of Miss Lelia Doan, Mrs. Mary H. Holloway, the SCA president, the president of the junior class and a 5A or 6A English teacher.

A THEME OF FRIENDSHIP THROUGH SPORTS

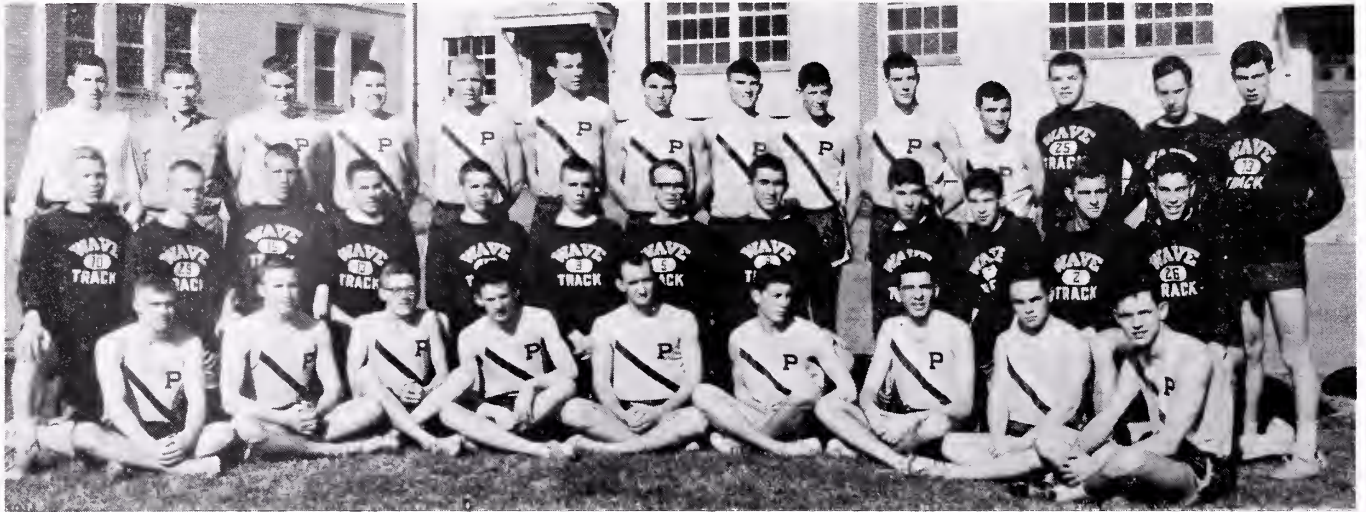

Mr. Russell B. Gill, our principal, and Mr. Carroll Alexander, principal of Hopewell High School, shake hands after the annual presentation of the Friendship Trophy at the Hopewell-Petersburg football game last fall.

SPORTS

Another important factor that aids in composing a well-rounded student is the athletic program. Each student may find his choice of a sport at Petersburg High School, whatever it may be. To accompany this outstanding athletic program is the finest staff of coaches available. Each one is deeply interested in the well-being of each member of his team.

Two key words that prevail strongly throughout each sport are sportsmanship and teamwork. The sportsmanship is fostered during football season by the exchanging of the Friendship Trophy between Hopewell and Petersburg. This act is sponsored by the Y-Councils in each city and is done at the Hopewell-Petersburg football game each year. The teamwork is proven by the friendship and spirit shown by each member of any of the teams.

TRACK

The 1962 "thinclads," despite the fact that they were handicapped by lack of a track, completed the finest season recorded since track was revived at the school in 1957. Repairs on the Cameron Field track limited the cindermen to running around the school and taking an occasional trip to the Fort Lee track.

The team completed the season with a respectable record of five wins and three losses. In addition to compiling this record the team also broke two school records. Buck Maddra surpassed his own discus record set in 1961 with a toss of 129'6". Skipper Roberts, sophomore miler, ran an amazing 4:37.5 mile to break the school record in that event. Skipper and high-jumper Steve Rondel went on to compete in the state-wide track meet held in Williamsburg where they put on a fine performance for PHS.

High-point men for the Wave were Skipper Roberts, Jimmy Moneymaker, Tommy Jones, Buck Maddra, Bill Griffin, and Robert Parker. The graduation losses will be keenly felt, for the team loses such outstanding competitors as Bill Griffin, Steve Rondel, Robert Parker, George Bokinsky, Carmine Ruffa, Robert Vaughan, Ronnie Thackston, and Vernon Akins. However, with a fine array of lettermen returning, the Wave is sure to be well represented in the District next year.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The Petersburg High Varsity Baseball team captured the Central District baseball championship for the second consecutive time and third time in the last six years. Their overall record, including ten district victories, was eleven wins, four losses, and one tie.

The Wave gave all indications that it was going to be hard to defeat as they won their first five district games before being defeated by Manchester, 7-6, in one of the season's most exciting contests. However, the team quickly rebounded after the defeat and proceeded to win four more consecutive games. Fittingly enough, Petersburg clinched the title with a victory over Hopewell in the game that proved to be the season's final.

Much of the credit for Coach Churn's successful season belongs to two fine pitchers, Howard Jones and Richard Ramsey, and to the timely "clutch" hitting of Lonnie Kinker, Kirk Jones, James Ruffa, and Richard Ramsey. The Wave also fielded one of the district's finest defensive teams with glovemen Doug Traylor, Robin Worth, Aubrey Townsend, and Jim Rosenstock turning in fine performances. Although losing lettermen Traylor, Kinker, Jones, and Townsend, the Wave nine for 1963 remains a contender to win its third consecutive title.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

The 1962 Baby Wave compiled a 6-4 season record behind the coaching of Hubert Payne. This represents one of the finest Junior Varsity baseball records ever attained at PHS and equals the record of the 1960 team.

Coming from behind in late innings, and losing two games by only one run, Coach Payne's boys showed real determination. The team was hampered by a lack of experience this year with several freshmen and eighth graders on the squad. With real fight and the able pitching of Tommy Watkins, Bob Meadows, and Bobby Harris, the Baby Wave gave a good showing of itself. Tommy Watkins, a freshman with a 5-0 record, led the pitchers.

VARSIITY BASKETBALL

The 1962-63 edition of the Crimson Wave basketball team, led by the experienced hand of Jim Rosenstock, compiled a respectable 9-6 ledger in the extremely well balanced Central District. Playing with determination and hustle, the Wave finished fifth in district standings . . . enabling Coach Bob Kilbourne to complete his fifth consecutive year with a creditable record.

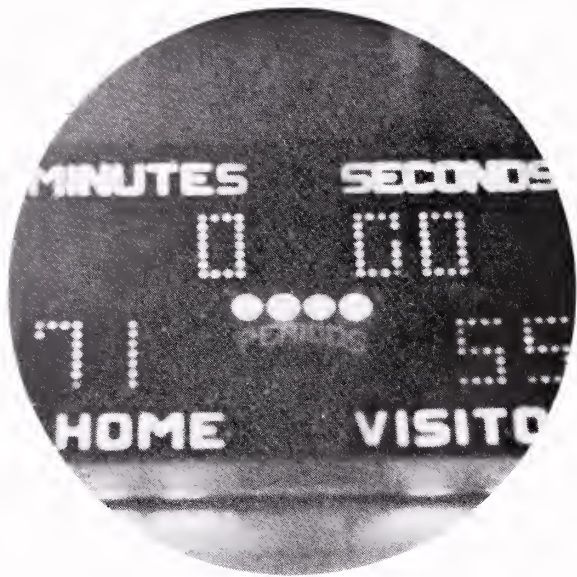

Starting slowly, the Wave lost three of its first four games, but bounced back, regained its poise, and won five consecutive games. The Wave was then third in the standing . . . but losses to Manchester and Highland Springs thwarted the Wave's attempt to close out the first term on top of the league. Valuable regulars — Carmine Ruffa, Wert Smith, and Hugh Powell — were lost at midterm as the team completed that part of the season with a deceptive 6-5 record.

The team, showing new vigor after the midterm break, and sparked by the play of Jim Rosenstock, Carl Tobias, and Robert Moody, completed the second term with three wins and a lone loss. The return of Terry Lescure, coupled with marked improvement by Rob Worth, was a major factor in this achievement. In the tournament the PHS team, handicapped by a sluggish start, but hustling the entire game, was finally stopped by Highland Springs, 62-58. The high points of the year were the two victories over Hopewell. It has been many years since a Petersburg team beat Hopewell twice in a single season.

Jim Rosenstock's 14 point average was tops for the Wave, but he had ample support from Carl Tobias and Hugh Powell, who averaged 13 points and 11 points respectively. Rob Worth and Robert Moody did a fine job rebounding. Losing only Rosenstock and Lescure, the team should be even better next year. Returning will be starting lettermen—Rob Worth, Robert Moody, and Carl Tobias—with Joe Hoppe, Fred Feil, and Morty Rudnick having valuable playing experience also.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1962 Crimson Wave, although enduring many hardships, showed spirit, determination, and fight during the hard season. Due to injuries, the Wave faced the problem of replacing at least one starter each game, with each tri-captain being injured early in the season. Despite these hardships, the Wave managed a respectable 4-6 record. The team, although losing 7-0, showed its potential strength in the hard-fought Thomas Dale game. The highlight of the season was undoubtedly the 7-6 victory over Manchester, one of the district's top teams.

Returning to the gridiron next fall will be lettermen Hugh Powell, Forest Tucker, Bobby Bowman, Richard Ramsey, Dean Freeburn, Frankie Durham, Bill Hudson, Robin Worth, Mike Harrison, Scott Curtis, David Gill, David Wrenn, and Joe Hoppe—potentially enough to ensure victories over rivals Colonial Heights, Hopewell, and Thomas Dale.

Graduation losses will be felt, with Danny Hopkins, Amiele Barakey, Jim Moneymaker, Jack Beck, David Griffin, Gary Bokinsky, Bill Aden, Larry Wray, Buck Maddra, Harrison Finney, and Tommy Jones having played their last game for PHS.

Bobby Harris attempts point after TD, as Doug Meredith holds and Rudy Hawkins moves to block Thomas Jefferson player in JV game.

Rudy Hawkins, Junior Varsity back, sweeps outside, picking up blockers Ed Myers (62), Bob Walker (51), and Bobby Harris (10).

Coaches Payne and Howard show disapproval during a Douglas Freeman game.

Fundamental techniques are the most important aspects of football.

Wave extra point team—Hugh Powell (12) and Richard Ramsey (25).

SOFTBALL TEAM SHOWS DETERMINATION

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

Handicapped by inexperience, the Crimson Wavelets suffered another winless season. There were only three returning lettermen on the team this year: Hazel Carlisle, Shelby Floyd, and Margaret Vaden. In spite of this handicap, the Wavelets displayed spirit and determination of which any team would be proud.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Crimson Wavelets displayed outstanding skill and sportsmanship at the All Prep Basketball Tournament, which was held this year at George Wythe High School in Richmond. Wavelet Anabel Woodruff received honorable mention for her exceptional efforts.

This year's team was spurred through their 1962-63 season by co-captains Anabel Woodruff and Margaret Vaden, who were also the only returning varsity lettermen. In spite of the lack of experienced players, the Wavelets put forth a noble effort in every game.

Left: Coach Joann Kiser points a suspicious finger at Wavelet Shirley Jackson (second from left) during a briefing before an upcoming game. Center: Margaret Vaden (14) controls a jump ball during the John Marshall game. Other Wavelets are Jerry Lou Pulley (20) and Anabel Woodruff. Right: Betty Faye Harrell (12) attempts to help Margaret Vaden control a rebound during the Hopewell game.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS FOSTER PEP

First Row: N. Thomas, B. Lynch, A. Taylor, C. Titmus, J. Grisham, Second Row: S. Zix, N. P. Clements, Miss Bailey, K. Wills, C. Dick, S. Pearce, S. Mason. Bottom to Top: P. Romaine, C. Kennedy, M. T. Meade.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

At the pep rallies, at the games — the cheerleaders are always there, giving the teams the support they need. These peppy, spirited girls were chosen last year as a result of tryouts conducted by Miss Bailey. The fourteen girls are a vital part of the athletic program at PHS.

The Varsity Cheerleaders are all juniors and seniors, while the Junior Varsity squad is made up of freshmen and sophomores. The spirit aroused by the cheerleaders may make a big difference as to the outcome of a game.

THE GAY SPIRIT OF HIGH SCHOOL

The majorettes perform for an enthusiastic student body at an after-school pep rally.

Everybody yells as the cheerleaders introduce our 1962 Wave football team.

Co-captain Buck Maddra and head cheerleader Ann Taylor don't seem to mind the rain after the football game.

ADS STAFF DISCUSSES CAMPAIGN

Business manager of the Missile, Judy Bailey, conducts a training session for her staff before they go out to solicit the ads. This group is involved not only with procuring ads but also with public relations.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The voice with a smile

Today, as always, the C&P voice with a smile is as close as "Operator" on your dial. Intelligently, cheerfully, the "Operator" handles phone calls to faraway places and intricate day-to-day problems of telephone users. Her job is interesting, important, demanding and rewarding. She's an indispensable member of our C&P communications service team.

GOOD GAS SERVICE MAKES WARM FRIENDS

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES !

Although now you are graduates, you can do a great service for the rest of us, if you never cease to be students — looking for opportunities and ways to cherish the American system of free enterprise and to improve the American way of life. You can be thankful for free schools in a country where you are free to worship and work and think and talk as you please. This is your heritage from the people who built America.

THE FUTURE is pretty largely in your hands — you must be vigilant and active to combat the evils of socialism, government domination of private industry, and all the “isms” that destroy democracy. We depend upon you to do a good job.

A LAST LINGERING LOOK

This setting symbolizes the result of our work throughout our life; however, graduation is not the end of our endeavors. New and interesting goals lie ahead for each student.

CONCLUSION

The rows have been ploughed and part of the harvest has been reaped. From this point, each graduated senior will journey onward through a life of hard labor, deep study, and gay fun.

Petersburg High School has done its best in sending this class on its way. It is now up to each individual as to the course which he will choose. Graduation is the climax to twelve years of hard labor, and it is the just reward. It closes one door of life and opens a bigger, better one for those who wish to open it.
